PREFACE

The present volume contains a detailed list, with an index, of the class of Duchy of Lancaster Royal Charters (D.L.10) which is summarily described on p. 97 of the printed List of Records of the Duchy of Lancaster (Lists and Indexes No. XIV), where mention is made of a calendar printed in the Appendix to the Thirty-first Report of the Deputy Keeper of the Records and continued in manuscript. So far as the class of D.L. Royal Charters is concerned the present work supersedes both the printed calendar and its manuscript continuation. The Appendix to the Thirty-first Report contains entries relating to documents not in this class; this material has not been reproduced.

The documents here listed range from the reign of William II to that of George II. The class includes not only charters but also letters patent and close which passed the Great Seal, exemplifications under the Exchequer Seal and Privy Seals. Most of the later documents were issued under either the Palatinate or Duchy seals, or both. One document, no. 109, was under the seal of the Lord Edward, later Edward I. The provenance of the family and other collections among the Duchy charters has been outlined in the Introduction to the List of Cartae Miscellaneae (D.L.36) (Supplementary Lists and Indexes No. V, Vol. 3).

The LIST gives references to printed texts or calendars where these are available: in such cases, the list entry is brief. Personal names have been modernized and places identified. The list is arranged by reigns, so that misplaced documents such as the Stephen charter, no. 9, and additions at the end of the class do not appear in strict numerical order. The INDEX has been prepared from the documents, and retains the manuscripts' spellings of personal and place names.
